25	1 Assessment of the Missesses
26	1. Approval of the Minutes
27	A motion was made to approve the minutes of the September 16, 2015 Senate. The minutes was
28	approved by unanimous voice vote.
29
30	2. Announcements and Communications—
31	a. Report of the President
32	President Ricardo Fernández reported the following items:
33
34	The University is seeking input from faculty, staff and students on the 21 st Century
35	CUNY Strategic Planning effort. There is a Strategic Planning webpage where faculty,
36	staff and students can share their ideas. President Fernández encouraged all to
37	participate.

Governor Cuomo has included funding for SUNY and CUNY performance-based projects in the state budget. $18 million is to be allocated to SUNY and $12 million will be allocated to CUNY senior colleges. Proposals will be selected on a competitive basis. In addition to the $12 million, the CUNY Board of Trustees has allocated $6 million for community colleges, which were not eligible for funding under the Governor's initiative. The Board also allocated $2 million for additional projects, including technology based projects. Therefore, a total of $20 million is available CUNY-wide for competitive proposals. The Proposals are due on October 16th and the funds must be expended by the end of this fiscal year. Proposals are to be reviewed and approved at the meeting of the Board Fiscal Affairs Committee on November 2nd.

The President asked Provost Morrobel Sosa to summarize the Lehman proposals. The Provost explained that there will be a maximum of three proposals per institution. The expectation is that the average amount of the award for any single institution will be around $600,000, but there is a maximum request of approximately $1 million. The three proposals that Lehman will submit are: (1) a project to integrate student, academic, co-curricular and financial records, which will allow advisors to better aid students; (2) a physical fitness, leadership and literacy program that will engage students in the Schools of Health Sciences, Human Services and Nursing, and of Education. The intention is to combine physical fitness, through inline skating and nutrition training, and leadership development, with a focus primarily on fifth grade students; and (3) a STEM education and policy initiative to increase the number of underrepresented students interested in STEM education, which would provide for expansion of an effort currently in place in the Chemistry Department.

President Fernández announced that the search committee for the next Lehman College president, in accordance with the Board of Trustees Guidelines, will include three faculty member, five members of the CUNY Board of Trustees, a senior college president, two students, and an alumnus. The three faculty are Dene Hurley, Hai-Ping Cheng, and James Jervis and the five trustees are Hugo Morales, Valerie L. Beal, Philip A. Berry, Rita Di Martino, and Terrence Martell. President Félix Matos-Rodríguez of Queens College will serve as the senior college president. The two

Students are Ramón Suero and Lilian Yang, the chair and vice chair of the Student Government Association, respectively. The alumnus is Ira Cohen, who is also a member of the Lehman College Foundation Board. There will be approximately four to five final candidates invited to visit the campus. The Trustees will have a general open forum for faculty, staff, and students so that the campus may voice any questions regarding the search and what they would like to see in the next president. Ultimately, the chosen candidate will be selected based on the Chancellor's recommendation to the Board.

b. Student Legislative Assembly—

Ms. Lilian Yang welcomed new student Senators and announced that there will be a second round of elections to fill the four remaining Senate seats. Intention forms to seek election are to be filled out before the October 13th deadline. Elections will take place on October 14th in the Student Life Building.

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES–

1. Graduate Studies—

- Prof. Carl Mazza, on behalf of Prof. Janet DeSimone, presented proposals for the following departments: History; Earth, Environmental, and Geospatial Sciences; Music; and Health Sciences.
- All proposals were approved by unanimous voice vote.

See Attachment I.

The next meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, November 18th at 11:00 a.m. in Carman, B33A.

2. Governance Committee—

Prof. Duane Tananbaum announced that the committee, at its September 29th meeting, reelected him as chair and Prof. Rosalind Carey as secretary. He also presented the nominees for faculty vacancies on the following committees: Library, Technology, and Telecommunications; and

104	Budget and Long Range Planning. He moved for election of the faculty slate and the slate was
105	elected by unanimous voice vote.
106	A slate of students to serve on the Senate Standing Committees was presented. This is in addition
107	to the students elected at the September 16 th Senate meeting. Prof. Tananbaum moved to elect the
108	slate which was elected by unanimous voice vote.
109	See Attachment II.
110	Prof. Tananbaum presented the following informational item:
111	The Governance Committee was asked whether a Senate member and/or a standing committee
112	member could be granted a one year leave of absence. The issue is not specifically covered in the
113	By Laws. The Governance Committee determined that there is no provision for a leave of
114	absence from the Senate or a standing committee. The options are that the member either resign
115	the position or continue with the Senate duties.
116	The committee is scheduled to meet November 3 rd at 12:30 p.m. in Carman 201.
117	3. Committee on Admissions, Evaluations and Academic Standards

119	proposal was approved by voice vote, with three abstentions.
120
121	See Attachment III.
122
123	4. Undergraduate Curriculum
124	There was no committee report. Prof. Vincent Prohaska announced that the General Faculty
125	Executive Committee will be sponsoring a faculty conversation about how to effectively engage
126	students in learning. The event is scheduled for October 21st at 3:30 in the Fine Art Gallery.

129	room 1405A.
130
131

133	5. Academic Freedom—
134	Prof. Valentine presented the report. He announced that at its last meeting, the committee was
135	unable to elect a new chair due to lack of quorum. Given that Prof. Valentine, who has served as
136	chair, is no longer a member of the committee, Davina Porock, the administrative representative,
137	was asked to convene the committee and conduct the election for a chair.
138
139	6. Ad Hoc Committee on the Student Evaluation of Teaching—
140	Prof. Robert Valentine presented the report.
141
142	See Attachment IV.

Senate Meeting – October 7, 2015 Graduate Studies Proposed Report

On behalf of the Grad Studies Committee, I'd like to put forth items from the following departments:

Department of History

• Course changes: HIE 725; HIE 735; and HIU 740

Department of Earth, Environmental and Geospatial Sciences

• Course changes: GEO 640

Department of Music

• New course: MST 780 (There was a problem with this course not being "on the books," even though it has been offered, so it has been submitted as a new course to ensure that the course is entered and made active.)

Department of Health Sciences

• Course changes: PHE 600, PHE 606, PHE 701, PHE 703, PHE 702, PHE 770, PHE 790

Does anyone have any questions and/or comments?

All those in favor of approving these proposals, please say I. Anyone opposed? Any abstentions?

Our next meeting is November 18 at 11 a.m. in Carman B33A.

4. Rationale:

For some reason, the course description is missing from the graduate bulleting and/or CUNYfirst, so the purpose of this proposal is to add a description and retain this course in the bulletin. The primary aim of the Earth Science Program is to provide content courses that prepare our students to be well-qualified teachers of earth science. This course supports that goal through geology learning experiences in the everyday urban setting of teachers and their students. In addition, this course will add to the departmental offerings in Geology/Earth Science and allow additional flexibility for students interested in this topic.

4. Rationale: To achieve consistency across the consortial colleges and the School of Public Health, course number, pre-reqs, descriptions and titles are harmonized to facilitate registering and advising for students and faculty. PHE 600 has been removed as a prerequisite, since a full course in biostatistics is not required to be successful in an epidemiology course, as some of the content is conceptual/theoretical and not strictly mathematical.

4. Rationale: HIU 740 appears in the graduate bulletin with the title The Industrial Revolution in America, but the course has never been taught as an industrial revolution class. Also, HIU 740 is listed without any description. We want to maintain the number to complement its undergraduate counterpart (HIU 340), that bears the title History of African American Women, so we can cross list both courses. To accomplish this, we changed the title and added a description to better reflect the content that actually is being taught in this graduate class.

3. Learning Outcomes (By the end of the course students will be expected to):

- Devise and complete, in consultation with a faculty advisor, an original plan of music theory research
- Find and evaluate scholarly writings about music analysis
- Use musical evidence to write persuasive analysis of music
- Cite sources consistently and appropriately according to the Chicago Manual of Style
- 4. Rationale: This course has long been part of the graduate music program, though somehow was overlooked in the CUNYfirst system upgrade and was not carried over. The course offers students the opportunity to pursue an independent research project related to music theory. It is an option for students enrolled in the Master of Liberal Studies program and is an advanced elective for students in the Master of Arts in Teaching program, who want to pursue an individual research project beyond the required general theory courses.

Proposal to Change CPI Requirements for Admission to Lehman College

The Situation:

To be admitted to Lehman College, freshmen require a Combined SAT (Critical Reading and Math) of at least 950 and a College Admission Average CAA of at least 83. As our admission standards have increased over the last years, our freshman population has decreased. In addition to these two criteria, Lehman College also requires the completion of 16 CPI academic units in high school. The latter goes back to a 1993 Board of Trustees issued requirement that students entering a senior college will have completed sixteen academic units: four units in English, three units in mathematics, two units in laboratory sciences, four units in social sciences, two units in languages other than English, and one unit in fine arts. It also stipulates that all students who have not satisfied these requirements prior to admission will be required to complete them before their graduation from Lehman College.

The Problem:

Lehman College is struggling to meet its targets for freshman admissions. As a result of the CPI requirement, Lehman College has rejected the applications of numerous students who do qualify based on their SAT and CAA scores. In Fall 2015, Lehman could have admitted numerous additional freshmen (see attached explanation). Lehman requires a higher number of CPI units than any other senior CUNY college (Baruch requires 14; City, Brooklyn and York require 12; Queens requires 13; Hunter and John Jay do not have a minimum requirement).

The Proposal:

The number of required CPI units will be lowered from 16 to 14 for admission to Lehman College. Students with 14 academic units after their junior year will have 16 units by the time they graduate from high school. This solution has been recommended by CUNY Central and has been discussed and approved by the President's Cabinet.

If this solution would have been implemented for Fall 2015, 379 students who were rejected would have met our admission standards. 190 students allocated to SEEK would have qualified for regular admission.

Explanation:

The following chart illustrates the accomplishments of students who listed Lehman College as an option in their application to CUNY for Fall 2015. As a result of Lehman's admission standards (SAT > 950, CAA >83), only 5,398 (30%) of the 17,701 applicants were eligible to be admitted. The CPI criterion excluded another 492 students (9.1% of those meeting SAT and CAA standards) from receiving a positive response.

(*) Applicants refers to students who listed Lehman College as an option in their application to CUNY.

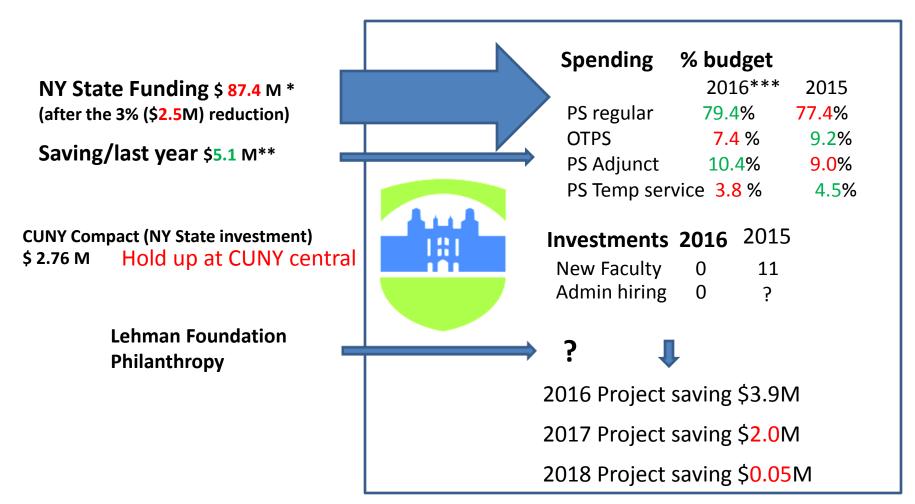

The following graph illustrates the SAT score ranges for the 492 students who were excluded as a result of the CPI criterion. It demonstrates that Lehman has rejected the applications of sizable number of students with impressive SAT scores.

UFS Report for the Lehman College Senate, October 7, 2015 Manfred Philipp

Chancellor Milliken has commented on GC President Robinson's report on the science doctoral programs:

He calls for "the retention of our consortia! model but with significant modifications to strengthen it through targeted investments, better coordination, as well as flexibility to allow the consortium and individual programs to grow and change. The recommendations also call on the Graduate Center (GC) and the colleges to expand doctoral training, research, and development opportunities for students across CUNY.

The report recommends strengthening the curricula and the pedagogical training of our students, as well as improving our competitiveness in recruiting. Specifically, recommendations include increasing curricular and professional development options for those intending to pursue non-academic careers; changing recruitment and admissions practices; raising stipend levels and lowering the ceiling on student teaching contact hours; growing the cohort size of CUNY Science Fellows; and establishing a CUNY-wide Advisory Committee to foster innovation and excellence, monitor the progress of reforms, and establish criteria and consider proposals from colleges seeking degree granting authority and from faculty groups within or across colleges seeking to create new degree programs."

The UFS Plenary has resolved that faculty members who generate online course material continue to own the intellectual property of such materials, and that the support given to faculty in order to create such materials does not give CUNY ownership over such materials.

It was announced that the results of the COACHE Survey are in the hands of college provosts and are expected to be distributed to the college communities.

Vice Chancellor Sapienza announced that the budget has funds for a contract settlement, and CUNY CIO Brian Cohen announced the board passage of continuance of college email addresses for retirees. He also discussed Blackboard upgrades.

Proposed Middle States Accreditation Changes: Your Survey Response Needed by October by Kathleen Barker, UFS Executive Committee

The Standards for Accreditation and Requirements of Affiliation are posted in final form on the Middle States website. Faculty are key stakeholders in this process. A link to their survey is provided at the website: https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/AccredProcesses.

Any faculty member may pose questions and make comments on the document which will govern future accreditation processes. Faculty Governance leaders at each campus are encouraged to notify faculty by posting a campus-wide link to the survey. According to the accrediting body's website, these extensive changes will be voted on by Middle States within the next few months:

Beginning in December 2015, the Commission's member institutions will be asked to vote on the adoption of modified accreditation processes and a modified accreditation cycle. If approved, the refocused processes could be implemented beginning with institutions currently scheduled for an evaluation visit in 2018-2019.

Various bodies at CUNY, including the University Faculty Senate, have responded to the proposed changes which include revisions in terminology related to faculty roles. In addition, the five-year Periodic Review Report has been eliminated and the schedule for submission of the Self Study is now every eight rather than every 10 years. Although the elimination of the Periodic Review Report lessens the burden of reporting, it also means that institutions will have to devise alternative methodologies in order to identify any problems and issues well in advance of the Self Study's due date.

What's Your Vision for a 21st Century CUNY?

by Emily Tai, UFS Executive Committee

Chancellor Milliken has announced a project to develop a strategic framework for CUNY going forward.

A website now exists for faculty to make known their comments, ideas, and thinking. http://www1.cuny.edu/sites/21stcenturycuny/your-ideas/

The site gives three sample questions to stimulate thinking, but comments are not restricted to these:

- What would you like CUNY to look like to be known for in 10 years?
- What would truly transform the University (what are your big ideas)?
- What are some innovative initiatives or strategies that CUNY should undertake to become that institution?

Comments submitted to the 21st Century CUNY site will go only to the Steering Committee working on this effort, but if you are willing to share your comments with the UFS, you can do so by sending your comments to the UFS Blog at etai@qcc.cuny.edu or directly to the UFS at cunyufs@gmail.com.
