The meeting was called to order by President Ricardo Fernández at

Minutes Adopted:

A motion was made and seconded to adopt the minutes of the Senate meeting of April 29, 2009. The minutes were approved unanimously.

Announcements and Communication-

  a. President Ricardo R. Fernández-

    1. President Fernández reported that the new term was getting off to a good start. Enrollment continues to be strong and has in fact increased. More information will be available soon.
       The college expects to reach 12,000 students when everything is counted. The college is getting stronger students. While there are fewer new freshmen, there is about the same number of transfer students. Also, there is success in retaining students, which is a significant dimension in seeing students moving toward a degree. This is all happening in spite of the increased standards which prevented some students from direct admission to Lehman. They will now start in a community college and then transfer to Lehman at some point.

2. The budget, of course, remains a challenge nationally. We’ve all read what’s going on in California and in other states. New York has taken a number of significant reductions and fortunately, it is not quite there. At CUNY last year, these reductions amounted to $68 million. This year we’ve been asked to put aside a 1.5% encumbrance which is over a million dollars. We hope that the full amount will not be taken.

3. The Strategic Planning Council, a group appointed last year by the President, met through the year and more recently to complete their report. It will be shared soon with the entire college community. The Council has been looking at general directions covering the next ten years. The goal is to see what Lehman should look like in 2018 when it reaches its 50th anniversary. The report will be widely distributed throughout the campus before it is finalized. The chancellor has asked the presidents of the senior colleges to convene and chair, in their respective campuses, a task force on retention, progression, and graduation.
President Fernández established such a task force. This is an intensive effort regarding retention and graduation. The issue is how to improve the rates that continue to be relatively low in comparison to other schools across the country. Our graduation rates hover at 30 percent after six years; that needs to be improved. The task force expects to complete its recommendations in mid-November. After all the colleges submit their reports, the chancellor plans to submit his recommendations at the November meeting of the Board of Trustees.

4. In the area of health and wellness, the President participated briefly yesterday in an activity on the South Field to promote health by walking. It involved at least 70 people. Everyone is welcome to sign up just by going to the Health Center.

5. The college has distributed electronically a number of messages on the H1N1 problem. In addition, some 60 to 80 hand sanitizers have been installed around the campus. This is in response to the medical advice to wash your hands often and to sneeze into your elbow.
President Fernández expressed special thanks to the Buildings and Grounds staff for their efforts.
Ms. Hyacinth Bouzalakos introduced herself as the new Student Conference chair. She is a communications major with minors in political science and women’s studies. She will only have one semester before graduation, but she hopes to go out with a record of accomplishments. Ms. Bouzalakos stated that as a person of Grecian background, she likes to believe she carries on the cultural wisdom of her ancestors. The Conference is now in a new year with new members full of energy and ambition. She reported that proposals for initiatives are coming in from members. She also offered that she looks forward to a future as one Student Government Association. She indicated that she has the full support of the Campus Association for Student Activities. She introduced Mr. Justin Simmons, CASA chair to the Senate.

REPORTS OF THE STANDING COMMITTEES-

a. Committee on Governance-

1. Prof. Manfred Philipp noted that he, and Prof. Rosalind Carey are the two remaining faculty members whose terms have not expired. He stated that the task now is to elect three faculty members to the Governance Committee to serve two-year terms; and student members to serve one-year terms. The faculty nominees were: Prof. James Jervis, Prof. Marie Marianetti, Prof. John Mineka, Prof. Duane Tananbaum and Prof. Patricia Thompson. The student nominees were Ms. Hyacinth Bouzalakos, Mr. Duane Adams, Mr. Joann Ruiz, Ms. Abisola Olabode, and Ms. Mobria Small. The student nominees were elected by acclamation. Ballots were distributed and Prof. Jervis, Prof. Marianetti and Prof. Tananbaum were elected. Also elected by acclamation was Prof. Manfred Philipp as the person to chair the Senate meeting in the absence of the President. The Governance Committee meeting will be held immediately after the Senate meeting.

b. Committee on Admissions, Evaluations and Academic Standards-

There was no report, but an issue arose whether the committee could meet and elect a chair in the absence of student members. Another issue is whether committees can transact business before the October 28 Senate meeting when it is anticipated that students will be elected to the standing committees. This dilemma was resolved by the principle that even if a committee does not have a quorum, it may review matters and then report to the Senate for discussion and action by the Senate. However, the election of a committee chair, which is an internal committee matter that does not come to the full Senate, will require a quorum.

Prof. Tananbaum reminded the Senate that with the exception of the Governance Committee, student representatives on committees do not have to be members of the Senate. He suggested that the Student Conference could send two or three observers to sit with each committee until the next Senate meeting when the observers could be officially elected. That would avoid any by-law issues. As observers they would not be allowed to vote and that would be reported at the October meeting.

c. Undergraduate Studies –

1. Prof. Barbara Jacobson presented proposals from: the Department of Art; the Department of Environmental Geographic and Geological Sciences; the Department of Health Sciences; the Department of Journalism, Communications and Theatre; the Department of Mathematics and Computer Science; from the Linguistics Program; and from the Women’s Studies Program. One informational item was an experimental course from the Department of Environmental Geographic and Geological Sciences.

2. A meeting was planned for two weeks from today at 12:30 p.m. in Carman 221. Prof. Jacobson said the Committee has a backlog of proposals and, as she understands it, the Committee can go ahead with proposals and approve them. And then they can be later submitted to the Senate for consideration.

3. The report was approved.

d. Committee on Graduate Studies –

1. Prof. Janet DeSimone presented proposals from: the Department of Economics and Business; the Department of History; the Department of Mathematics and Computer Science; and from the Department of Speech-Language- Hearing Sciences. In addition, there was a new program proposal from the Department of Nursing to establish a Family Nurse Practitioner Program. The report was approved.

2. Prof. DeSimone announced the need for a new committee chairman to replace Prof. Timothy Alborn. She nominated Prof. Angela Kelly from the Department of Middle and High School Education. Prof. Kelly was elected.

3. The next Committee meeting will be in early October.
e. Committee on Academic Freedom-

There was no report.

f. Committee on Library, Technology and Telecommunications-

1. Mr. James Carney updated the Senate on the roll-out of the campus printing systems in two separate parts: First, it has been delayed because of faulty equipment from the vendor; and second, the rollout of the centralized printing system in the library has been on track. In the transition, there has been overlapping with the old system and a need to get familiar with the new system. The latter is being used in various areas in the library. Some issues such as student limits of $10 during the test period resulted in some confusion and transition to the new system has required additional customer service efforts by reference librarians, but as the system settles, there are fewer student problems. A student cost limit has been set at $17.50 for 350 black and white copies.

2. Blackboard problems have largely been eliminated by the changes made during the summer.

3. The Committee was asked to identify agenda items for the coming year. Initial items include: first, recommendations to the Tech Fee Committee on disbursements of funds and ensuring that plans and information on expenditures are readily available; second, to monitor and report on roll-out of smart classrooms; third, to pursue taking advantage of CUNY-wide programs and projects to make sure Lehman maximizes mandated expenditures; and fourth, to re-evaluate purpose, execution and frequency of technology surveys.

4. The Committee encourages student activity on the Committee.

5. The next meeting is scheduled for 11 a.m. on Tuesday, October 20 in the Library Conference Room.

6. Discussion followed regarding the concern over the discontinuance of Turnitin, an internet based plagiarism detection service, without consultation with the Senate Committee.

Associate Provost Robert Whittaker reported that the use of Turnitin was low. Moreover, there is a similar feature in Blackboard 8.

g. Committee on Campus Life and Facilities-

1. Prof. Janette Tilley presented the report. A brief meeting was held today to follow-up on some initiatives that had begun last semester. She said that there is a new food vendor on campus with a contract that began the first week of this semester. Considerable changes will be initiated by the spring semester, including expanded food options in Carman Hall and in the Music Building as well as locations yet to be determined. The Committee invites feedback on the changes in the three main campus food outlets.

2. Sustainability efforts involving the food services were noted. New equipment has been added such as a food pulper and a composter for discarded waste, a first at CUNY. This will require getting used to not putting plastic in with discarded food.

3. The next meeting will be on Wednesday, October 28 at 1 p.m. in Shuster 325

h. Committee on Budget and Long-Range Planning -
   1. There was no report. The next will be on September 24 at 2 p.m. in Music 313.

i. University Faculty Senate -
   1. Prof. Manfred Philipp reported that the fall 2009 conference to be held on Friday, November 6 will concentrate on funding public and private higher education.
   2. The Faculty Experience Survey, which is conducted every couple of years, is now ready to go. Individual responses cannot be detected as the survey is anonymous.
   3. The CUNY Awards program meets tomorrow. The proposal to make it campus-based is off the table, but there is a new proposal to have two kinds of awards: one higher dollar amount with a higher competitive activity and the other a lower dollar amount with a less competitive nature.
   4. Available now is a new draft of the document that regulates institutional review boards and is now open for comment. A copy can be obtained from Prof. Philipp.
   5. A meeting will be held with Vice Chancellor Gillian Small to discuss formal training on research ethics.
   6. CUNY is setting up a new committee to develop an interface with the Department of Education. Before CUNY had open admissions long ago, close attention was paid to CUNY’s admission requirements. Once there were open admissions, less attention was paid and the high schools went their own way in terms of curriculum. Now that senior colleges, such as Lehman, have tougher admissions criteria, the high schools are now paying closer attention.
   7. The University is looking at the CUNY Proficiency Exam. The concern is that that the company that handles the exam is charging $25 million to run it, which is regarded as excessive.
8. The chancellery demanded that 80 percent of new hires be at the instructor and lecturer levels. Of 200 hires in the summer and the fall the chancellor said that this is not a permanent policy and hires will again concentrate on assistants, associates and full professors. There is great pressure on the University to cover classes with full-time faculty, which is an ingredient of scholarly strength. In the Plenary session last night this subject was vigorously discussed; and it seemed clear that the chancellor was aware of the problem.

9. Presidential searches have been completed at Brooklyn College, Hostos Community College and Medgar Evers College. The president of City College announced that he is moving over to the University of Cincinnati. The president of Baruch College stepped down and is being replaced as acting president by the chair of the Baruch College Senate. The dean of education at Hunter College, Dr. David Steiner, will be the new State Education Commissioner.

OLD BUSINESS

There was no old business.

NEW BUSINESS

1. Resolutions concerning saving paper, voting on policy issues and hiring tenure-track and non-tenure track faculty were submitted as follows:

2. Motion A asked that at the beginning of each Senate meeting the Governance Committee should circulate printed copies of all motions submitted for discussion, with the exception of curriculum proposals which run to more than one page. The motion was defeated.

3. Motion B resolved that in the case of a vote on policy issues, the actual vote should be preceded by a straw vote which shall consist of a non-binding paper ballot, with no recording of names of those voting, the result of which paper ballot to be announced to the Senate together with the result of the actual vote. Discussion followed. It was moved, seconded and approved that the motion be referred to the Governance Committee for further discussion.

4. Motion C recommends to the Chancellor and the central administration of CUNY that this year and subsequent years a balanced pattern of hiring tenure-track and non-tenure track faculty be restored. The motion was approved.

ADJOURNMENT

The meeting was adjourned at 5:05 p.m.
Respectfully submitted,

Esdras Tulier
