LECTURE RECORDING AGREEMENT

Students with certain disabilities have the right to record class lectures for their personal study use*. Lectures recorded for this purpose may not be shared with other people without the consent of the lecturer. Recorded lectures may not be used in any way against the faculty member, other lecturers, or other students whose comments are recorded as part of a classroom activity. Information contained in the recorded lecture is protected under federal copyright laws and may not be published or quoted without the express consent of the lecturer and without giving proper identity and credit to the lecturer.

I hereby acknowledge that I have read and understand the above policy and that I will abide by the policy with regard to any lecture I record while enrolled as a student at Lehman College. I further understand that the reference to recordings includes any transcript produced from the recording.
