

An Inside Look at

LEHMAN ATHLETICS

Nnamani, Santiago, and Lockett Lead Lightning All-Star Charge

The CUNY Athletic Conference announced their men and women's basketball all-stars today, and Lehman College sophomore Sally Nnamani was named the conference's Most Valuable Player, while Lehman head coach Eric Harrison was named the Coach of the Year. The awards were presented at the annual CUNY basketball luncheon and media day at the Water Club in New York City.

Nnamani, a 5'11 forward from Warwick, New York was second in the conference in scoring with a 20.9 ppg clip and led the league in three-point field goals made per game (2.2), and blocked shots per game (2.79). Last year's CUNY Rookie of the Year has converted on 15 of her last 28 three-point field goal attempts and has emerged as one of the most dominant players in the CUNY conference.

For head coach Eric Harrison, the Coach of the Year title is his third in his nine-year stint at Lehman. Coach Harrison led the Lightning to a 16-9 overall after the squad finished with an 11-16 record last season. Lehman is currently 11-2 down the stretch and are one of the hottest teams entering the conference tournament.

The CUNYAC first team consists of a very talented group of individuals. Leading the way is the leading scorer in the CUNY conference, Quandra Rogers of Medgar Evers College. Rogers is leading the conference with a 22.3 ppg clip. Nicole Estrada of College of Staten Island, Melissa Escalera and Lashannen Hogue of John Jay and Dominique McClendon of Baruch College round out the first team.

Lehman College senior guard Kathy Santiago was selected as a member of the second team. Santiago, leads the CUNY in steals per game (3.39) and ranks 12th in scoring (12.3ppg).

Men's basketball player Kyle Lockett was selected as a second team all-star, averaging 19.0 ppg, while also shooting 41.3 percent from the field.
