CAMPUS SPECIFIC INFORMATION
Reporting to the Chief Librarian, the Education Librarian serves as liaison to Lehman's flagship Division of Education, providing reference and instructional services. He or she evaluates and selects print, electronic and multimedia resources supporting the Education Division curriculum, faculty research and student achievement.

The Education Librarian forges collaborative partnerships with discipline faculty, promotes a sophisticated understanding of pedagogical practices and methods, and develops tutorials and pathfinders to teach information literacy to undergraduate and graduate students. The candidate serves as an active participant in Lincoln Center Institute's aesthetic education program. Further, he or she supervises the Education Library and its staff.

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS
For Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor designations:
Ph.D. degree in area(s) of expertise, or equivalent as noted below. Also required are the ability to teach successfully, interest in productive scholarship or creative achievement, and ability to cooperate with others for the good of the institution.

For Instructor designation:
A Master's degree in area(s) of expertise, and/or active progress toward a Doctorate, or equivalent as noted below. Also required are the ability to teach successfully, interest in productive scholarship or creative achievement, and ability to cooperate with others for the good of the institution.

OTHER QUALIFICATIONS
Master's degree in Library and Information Science from an ALA-accredited institution. Second Master's preferred or recommended in Education, Psychology, or related field (required for Assistant Professor rank). At least two years experience in an academic library is strongly recommended, as well as knowledge of higher education issues and challenges.

COMPENSATION
Commensurate with education and experience.
