

Moving Towards Racial Justice, Education & Freedom

May 7-8, 2021

This virtual conference will explore how educators can:

Engage in a deep interrogation of our own relationship to white supremacy and align ourselves with racial justice • Honor and learn from our ancestors, who already laid pathways towards creating and sustaining the beloved community • Take strategic, meaningful action that centers BIPOC (Black, Indigenous People of Color) people and their human rights, while resisting the trap of performative activism • Develop communities of care and accountability so our efforts are both successful and sustainable

Register: tinyurl.com/JusticeFreedom

For additional information, contact david.fletcher@lehman.cuny.edu

Supplemental Reading: "We want to do more than survive: Abolitionist teaching and the pursuit of educational freedom," by Bettina L. Love, available at sistersuptownbookstore.square.site

LEHMAN
COLLEGE

*The Center for Human Rights
& Peace Studies*

