On this page you will set the destination of the transcript. Here are some tips:

- Know the full name and address of the college, university, or institution.
- Know the office that should receive the transcript in case multiple offices appear within one institution. It is common for transcripts to be received by the Admissions or Registrar's Office but you need to confirm with the institution.
- Some institutions have an undergraduate processing center, know if you should send the transcript there instead of the general address.
