ASHONDA CULCLEASURE

Bronx Business Tech Incubator

GRADUATE SPOTLIGHT

- ✓ NEEDED stability and flexibility to care for her family
- ✓ DECIDED to transform her side hustle into a successful tech business
- ✓ SUPPORTED by Bronx Business Tech Incubator mentors, and the community (see page 34 for BBTI information)
- ✓ SUCCEEDED as a community-focused entrepreneur and educator

Ashonda Culcleasure's path to being an entrepreneur started when her work schedule conflicted with her son's medical needs. After being denied a day off to take her son to a doctor's appointment, she walked away from her job at the DMV. She started Fix It With Piggy, a technology repair and STEM education company, and never looked back.

Always looking for more opportunities to network and grow her business, Ashonda joined the Bronx Business Tech Incubator. There she discovered a vibrant and inclusive entrepreneurial community in her own backyard "It felt like everyone was on the same team, even though we all had different businesses," she says.

Ashonda credits the BBTI for providing essential support in networking, financial literacy, business strategy, and encouragement. "Being a solo entrepreneur is challenging," she admits, "but having advisors and a supportive community change everything." Now, with help from the BBTI team, she is building a curriculum with a team of interns, and working to have Fix It With Piggy certified as an official Career and Technical Education program.

Reflecting on her journey, Ashonda emphasizes resilience and openness to learning. "Mistakes are essential to success," she shares. "The moment I asked for help, my entire business changed. Everyone needs a support system." Her advice to future entrepreneurs? "Believe in your ideas, lean into your community, and don't hesitate to seek support. If I can do it, anyone can." ■

From the President

Dear Lehman College Students,

As we look ahead to another commencement this May, I'm especially proud to celebrate the 22 graduates of our new Bachelor of Liberal and Interdisciplinary Studies (BLIS) program. This milestone reflects the power of flexible, student-driven education—designed especially for adults who are ready to build their own path and define success on their own terms.

Lehman is also working to support our community of inspirational local entrepreneurs, like Ashonda Culcleasure, by helping Bronx small businesses stay protected in a digital world. Through workshops, one-on-one advising from the Small Business Development Center, and the placement of Lehman interns, we're preparing our students for meaningful careers while making a real impact right here at home.

¡Muchos éxitos!

Fernando Delgado, Ph.D.

Norma De La Rosa

Certified Clinical Medical Assistant at Mt. Sinai Hospital

ALUMNI SPOTLIGHT

Norma De La Rosa graduated in June, 2019 from the Lehman College Certified Clinical Medical Assistant program. Her transition to a career in the healthcare industry came after 13 years working as a travel agent.

As a person with a natural ability to put people at ease, and a passion for making challenging experiences easy for others, a phlebotomy certification was a logical choice. This decision led Norma to pursue an additional EKG certification through Lehman College, which has opened the door to working in many departments including cardiology and presurgical. The additional certification and the knowledge gained through her hands-on training has also given her job security and the ability to negotiate higher rates of pay.

“After applying to Mount Sinai, I finally got my dream position. I have a union job that started off at $27 per hour. I get regular breaks, vacation, and I’m well taken care of. I get to pick what I like, and pursue the areas of my work that I’m interested in. My family is so proud of me.”

GRADUATE SPOTLIGHT

- ✓ CHALLENGED herself to learn a new skill
- ✓ SECURED an ASSET Scholarship for 50% of tuition
- ✓ GAINED hands-on experience working with computers
- ✓ PREPARED for an exciting new career in IT!

Originally from Jamaica, Ann Marie has lived in the Bronx since 2000. She worked as a paralegal and in mortgage processing before pivoting her career towards IT. In her previous roles, she often used computers, sometimes troubleshooting technical issues. This experience sparked her interest in IT security. “We often upload sensitive information, so we need to make sure that it’s really secure,” she shared.

Still, she had no formal IT experience when enrolling in Lehman College’s CompTIA+ Computer Technician program. Through a quick internet search, she discovered the ASSET scholarship. “I thought, you know what, let me challenge myself. Let me see if I can do this,” she shared. The scholarship allowed her to pursue further education and shift her career trajectory. Once accepted into the program, she appreciated the hands-on experience with hardware and the detailed security training it provided.

The comprehensive learning experience of Lehman’s CompTIA program exceeded her expectations. “We were able to pull apart a laptop, a CPU, and learn to recognize what parts of hardware are what. And then we got to learn the different security features, which was a valuable experience for me.” Now, she’s focused on securing a job in the IT field and is diligently preparing for the CompTIA exam, which she hopes to take next month. ■

Using a mentoring model in which a less experienced player sits next to a more experienced one benefits both the students and the ensemble. Participants enjoy world-class rehearsal and performance facilities, professional-caliber directors, and multiple opportunities per year to perform masterworks ranging from standard to contemporary.
