Sight and Sound: A Musical Journey of Visual Art

THURSDAY, MAY 1, 2025

1:00 PM EST

LEHMAN COLLEGE ART GALLERY

What does your favorite work of art “sound” like? How can a musical composition give a deeper meaning to visual art? Join Soprano, Yolanda F. Johnson for a very special afternoon of music, where we explore its relationship to art, through operatic arias, art songs, spirituals and more.

She will be joined by Michael Eisenberg (piano), Raina Arnett (violin) and Kate Dillingham (cello). The afternoon will feature the world premiere of a new musical work, created for Ms. Johnson by the late American composer, James Cohn, accompanied by piano trio and “sounding” like Gauguin’s famed painting, Three Tahitians.
